SAN DIEGO –City Councilmembers Carl DeMaio and Donna Frye applauded reforms enacted today that will improve the openness and effectiveness of the City Council. The Council will now hold six evening meetings per year to enhance public participation, selection of the Council President will be made in December after any newly elected members take office, and the Pledge of Allegiance will also become a formal part of the Tuesday meeting schedule.

“Today the City Council took an important first step to change how City Hall works to make it more open and effective,” commented DeMaio. “After months of work, we enacted reforms that will enhance public participation in city government, and I look forward to working with my colleagues on additional reforms to the City’s budget and oversight processes.”

Councilmember Donna Frye added, “I’m looking forward to the next round of reforms in our open government efforts.”

The reforms enacted today are part of a larger package of 15 reforms Councilmembers DeMaio and Frye teamed up to suggest to improve the openness, effectiveness and independence of the City Council.
